

The Buddhist Temple of Chicago
2018 - MOCHI TSUKI
Sunday, December 16

Join the fun!

In the spirit of Oneness, in preparation for the new year, may this year's mochi-tsuki (rice-cake pounding) be a healthy gathering of family and friends, young and old, masters and apprentices, workers and on-lookers, symbolized by the many grains of mochigome that are washed, steamed, pounded, turned and formed to make delicious cakes.

Please help us out if you can –

Rice is washed and soaked the day before (Saturday the 15th).

Setup on Sunday begins at 7:00am.

First pounding is around 10:30am (before 11am service).

After service (around noon), mochi is available to buy and enjoy.

Clean-up starts around 1:30pm.
